PRESIDENT'S LETTER 2019

TINA WILSON
PRESIDENT

Good evening and welcome to the Femmy Gala, the Underfashion Club's annual dinner that gives us the opportunity to come together to celebrate the industry that has given us all so much! It is a festive time when we can come together and reflect, reconnect with old friends and make new lasting connections. I would like to congratulate this year's distinguished honorees, all of whom personify creativity, passion and vision. Tonight's celebration honors KOHL'S, GELMART INTERNATIONAL, PIONEER ELASTIC, MIKE FREVILLE AND CHRIS MELTON OF DILLARD'S, MAHESH AMALEAN AND TRISTINE BERRY.

2019 will begin a new era for the Underfashion Club, a reinvention of our organization while acknowledging those who set the foundation. We are excited to reach out to new members, to open ourselves to new categories and new brands of mens and womens intimate apparel, accessories and swim. The world does not stand still, the industry is in constant change and we must be agile and ready. It is challenging and also exhilarating to begin a new chapter.

We are proud of the extensive scholarship support that is given each year to intimate apparel students at the Fashion Institute of Technology and Parsons School of Fashion, fashion merchandising students at LIM College, graduating seniors from the High School of Art & Design and High School of Fashion Industries in New York City, and the Design and Architecture Senior High (DASH) School in Miami; as well as the continuing education of our own members. There are three memorial scholarship funds that have been established by generous contributors, with monies distributed each year to the best and brightest: The Mary Krug Memorial Scholarship Fund, the John Bowman Memorial Scholarship Fund and most recently the Eileen West Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The students are our future, and it is our responsibility to not only provide them with scholarships, but to arm them with the tools to take our industry into the future. The Femmy Gala is hosting, for the 16th consecutive year, a design contest featuring garments designed by students from the Fashion Institute of Technology's Fashion Design program. For the first time our contest theme goes beyond beautifully designed and executed garments to one of inclusion and diversity in sizing. To aid in this effort, in 2018 the SAIG committee purchased larger size forms specifically for the use of FIT intimate apparel design students. This was, and continues to be, a major commitment for advancing the education of design students on the high school and college levels, and I particularly want to acknowledge the efforts of SAIG Co-Chairs, Clelia Parisi and Suzanne Beck in making this happen. A very special thank you to Suzanne Beck, who has been a rock and at the heart of the SAIG committee for many years. Thank you also to FIT faculty mentor Anne Rutter for helping to make this year's design contest one with aesthetic new relevance.

Special thanks to design contest sponsors Best Pacific Textile, Clover Group International, Regina Miracle International and Stretchline Holdings for providing the cash awards that will be presented to tonight's contestants; to Eurovet and Curvexpo for providing roundtrip airfare, accommodations and complimentary admission to this July's Interfilie Paris / Salon International de la Lingerie for the 1st prize winner of the contest and; to Francesca Spinetta and Intima Magazine for featuring the top 3 winning designs in the August issue of Best of Intima.

Our 61st Femmy celebration – and this awards journal – could not have happened without the efforts of a dedicated group of volunteers. Sincere congratulations and thanks to Femmy Co-Chairs, Amy Bittner and Ann Deal, and to the entire Femmy committee; most notably Karen Bromley, Erin Lynn, Tristine Berry, Rosa Chamides, Marianne Hodgins, Linda Elton, Joe Smith, Victor Vega and Jacqueline Wander. The strength and future of the Underfashion Club lies with the enthusiastic volunteers who work to make a difference in our industry and offer our members benefits that will advance their careers. Our Web Site, www.underfashionclub.org offers a wealth of information. We will be ramping up our social media presence and invite our membership to join us in that effort. Our programs inform and educate members and industry associates, and our members-only get-togethers provide fun opportunities to network and mingle. Please join us and help us to grow our industry.

This is also a moment to remember two Board members who left us in 2018: Berna Goldstein and Roslyn Harte.

We pay tribute to Berna Goldstein, an industry leader who spearheaded the launch and successes of some of our industry's premier brands such as Donna Karan Intimates, Hanesbrands, Vanity Fair and Soma. Berna was a friend, a mentor, and advisor to many. Her humor, wisdom, and kindness will be missed. Her dedication to the club never wavered and on a personal note, I love you Berna, thank you for your friendship and guidance.

Roslyn Harte helped set the foundation of the Underfashion Club; she was a pioneer in intimate apparel and a voice for the industry. Her dedication to our Club and Project Help Us Give, Inc. is legendary. Her career spanned over 60 years and we are all the better for it. We will always honor and cherish the outspoken, humorous, passionate, energetic and thoughtful presence she brought to the Underfashion Club. We will not soon forget Roz; she left us with lasting memories all of which we will share later this month in a celebration of her life.

For me, the past year has been one of learning, navigating and profound appreciation. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to work with such dedicated people. I look forward to working with you to move our organization forward and prepare those who will follow us for the ever changing landscape of retail and Ecommerce.

TINA WILSON

Accepting on behalf of Kohl's is Suzanne Dawson, vice president and divisional merchandise manager of Kohl's women's intimate and active apparel, who is responsible for helping to deliver amazing product and exciting customers with sought-after merchandise in Kohl's women's intimate and active apparel assortment.

Prior to joining Kohl's in 2009, Dawson was vice president of assortment planning and system implementation at Macy's, as well as held numerous positions at Robinson's May and Marshall Fields. She has 30 years of retail experience.

SUZANNE DAWSON

GELMART INTERNATIONAL

Since joining Gelmart International in 2009, Yossi Nasser has focused on continued growth for the 66-year-old family business. Under his leadership, Gelmart has grown market share significantly, and has become one of the largest private-label intimates' suppliers in the country. Through this journey, Gelmart has been fortunate enough to be awarded Walmart's Vendor of the Year in 2011 and 2013 amongst all suppliers, for pioneering and bringing into market the top-selling $3.98 bra program.

Yossi is now focused on bringing Gelmart closer to its next goal: product and market innovation, which he plans to achieve through brand concept building and incubation. As part of this initiative, Gelmart has become very active in launching and incubating direct to consumer brands, such as LIVELY and the Feather Bra, while continuously focusing on providing unique product and experiences to consumers, through different touch points. Gelmart is also active in the licensing space, as it has recently acquired the innerwear license for French Connection.

Yossi credits the success Gelmart has realized to the dedication and steadfastness of his team, as well as the support and encouragement he receives from his family and partners. Yossi encourages his team to not be afraid to take certain risks in order to challenge the status quo. Despite spending much of his time in business, Yossi also enjoys investing just as much of it towards family and the social causes he and his family value. Yossi is active in causes that support his native country Israel. As a family, the Nasser's enjoy contributing to the arts, especially arts education.

Established in 1963, Pioneer Elastic (Hong Kong) Ltd. is a market leader of narrow elastic fabric. From the beginning the company has evolved through product design and development, raw material research, latest technology, and establishment of manufacturing facilities to become a renowned manufacturer in its field, around the world.

Factories located in China, Thailand, India, and soon to be Vietnam give a total of over 60,000 square meters of combined production facilities. Pioneer Elastic has the capacity of over 60 million meters per month for the world market. Our high quality products are assured by the accreditation of ISO 9001, ISO 14001, ISO 18001 and Oeko-Tex Standard 100 certification. A dedicated R&D team comprising of personnel who are experienced, imaginative and assertive ensure we constantly innovate. Our team has been successful in maintaining Pioneer's leadership in design and innovation over many years.

For four years in a row Pioneer Elastic has achieved the requirement set by ZDHC (Zero Discharge of Hazardous Chemicals) Foundation. The company complies with all Laws and Conventions in countries where it operates and commits to elevate our preservation to the environment continuously. The product of the company is marketed under Pioneer's pledge of excellence, and caters to leading brand names around the world.

Matthew Lam joined the company in 2002 with around 10 years' experience in the intimate industry. This prior experience supported his initial role in sales and marketing and, in 2006 he became the Group Chief Operating Officer overseeing various operations in the group.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD RECIPIENT

MIKE FREVILLE

Mike began his career in 1977 with Bacon's Department Stores, a Division of Mercantile Stores in Louisville, Kentucky. Mike worked as a stock boy while finishing high school and attending college. After graduating from Bellarmine College, Mike became an Assistant Buyer in the men's area and then a department manager in several of the branch stores in Louisville. Bacon's is also where Mike met his beautiful wife Laura, in 1986.

In 1990 Mike became the buyer for men's shirts, ties and accessories for the Bacon's Division. As computers began to play a greater role in our business and with Mike's experience in basics, he was later promoted to Divisional Manager for Planning and Replenishment for the Bacon's/McAlpin's Divisions.

In 1996 with the retirement of one of the great Intimate Apparel Divisional's, Pat Metcalf, Mike was promoted to the Divisional Merchandise Manager for Intimate Apparel and Accessories for Bacon's/McAlpin's.

In 1998, Mercantile Stores was purchased by Dillard's where Mike held the same position until the Louisville buying office was closed and consolidated into the St. Louis Buying Division. At that time, Dillard's consolidated all of the Intimate Apparel Buying to Corporate and Mike accepted a position as Product Coordinator for Dillard's Intimate Apparel in Little Rock, Arkansas.

In 2009, Mike was promoted to Corporate Divisional Merchandise Manager for Intimate Apparel and Sleepwear at Dillard's and currently holds that position today.

For Mike and his wife Laura, Arkansas has been a great place to grow and raise a family. Mike and Laura have two sons and a daughter. Brandon, age 26 works for a local Funeral Home chain in the IT department and is working on furthering his education. Alex, age 21 is currently attending the University of Arkansas majoring in Biology. Chloe, age 11 is a very good student, piano player and avid golfer. You can find Mike many Saturday's caddying for Chloe in local golf tournaments. With the whole family's love of camping and Mike's passion for fly fishing, Arkansas with all of its lakes and rivers is the perfect home for them. Whenever there's a free weekend, you'll find them all on a river or in the woods somewhere around the state.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD RECIPIENT CHRIS MELTON

---

Chris Melton is the Merchandise Manager of Intimates at Dillard's, Inc. In her position, she is responsible for buying and managing all intimates for the corporation. Dillard's, Inc. currently operates 267 locations and 25 clearance locations spanning 29 states plus an internet location.

Born in Bridgeport Connecticut as the oldest of 3 children, she grew up on both coasts. Chris always had a competitive nature, love of fashion, and knack for numbers. "I try to take what was done yesterday, and do it better tomorrow," she says. Her father, an Aeronautical Engineer, would take her family to every museum, national landmark, and battlefield across the country. While he and the rest of the family read every plaque, she was in the gift shop wondering who picks out what goes into these shops and why? Little did she know that years later this simple child's inquisitive nature would lead her to her life's passion.

In 1989, as a junior at Baylor University, Chris was required to do an internship for her degree plan. Chris reached out to the local Dillard's Department Store in Waco, Texas and they accepted her request. At that time, no one knew that this was the beginning of a fulfilling lifetime career journey that would lead her ultimately to the intimate apparel industry. Starting out as an intern Chris moved through the ranks as Department Manager, Area Sales Manager, Assistant Buyer, Divisional Buyer, Replenishment Buyer, and ultimately moving onto Corporate Buyer of Branded Foundations in early 2007. With each new experience came more valuable information to use in her next step, learning all she could from her time at the store level to the buying arena. In 2012, she was tasked to take on Dillard's Exclusive Brand lingerie, and in the spring of 2016 she acquired Daywear and Panties under her umbrella. She has been a champion of superior assortments, strong key item programs, MAP pricing policies; constantly challenging herself and partners to fill industry voids. Almost 30 years later, surrounded by an amazing team of co-workers and vendor partners Dillard's Intimates has grown to be the benchmark of a better lingerie shopping experience. "I believe we work for the customer. If she always comes first, and we fight for her daily, we will not fail."

Like her parents did for her, Chris, a single mother of two grown children, Victoria and Gregory, has instilled all the work ethics, drive, and humility needed for them to succeed in being servant leaders in their community. Any free time is cherished and maximized by working in her yard, her love of traveling, with friends and family, and desire to sharpen her photography skills. Chris lives by the motto "Do not let your past paralyze you, learn from it. Do not let your future scare you, prepare for it. The present is here, live it."

HUMANITARIAN AWARD RECIPIENT MAHESH AMALEAN

Mahesh Amalean is the Chairman & Co-Founder of MAS Holdings, South Asia's largest manufacturer of intimate and sportswear. Headquartered in Sri Lanka, the company has 53 manufacturing facilities located in 16 countries, providing employment to over 97,000 associates. The company provides design-to-delivery solutions to global fashion brands including Victoria's Secret, Nike, lululemon athletica, H&M, GAP, PVH and Ralph Lauren.

Mahesh was conferred the title 'Deshamanya' (Pride of the Nation) in 2005 by the President of Sri Lanka in recognition of his service to the Nation. In 2011, The Open University of Sri Lanka conferred an honorary doctorate (honoris causa) to Mahesh in recognition of his contribution to the Country. In 2013, Mahesh was one of five global business leaders recognized with a UN Award at the Women's Empowerment Principles (WEP) inaugural Leadership Awards presentation where he received the award for Cultural Change for Empowerment. He was ranked amongst the Top 20 Progressive Asian Leaders by the World Business Magazine.

In 2015, MAS Holdings was honoured with the 'PVH Global Vendor Category Award for Strategic Advancement, Human Rights and Sustainability' and in the same year was bestowed with 'Gap Vendor Category Awards for Outstanding Performance for Social Responsibility, Outstanding Vendor Performance for Delivery and Outstanding Vendor Performance for Responsive Supply Chain.

In 2012, MAS was recognized as the Winner for Women's Empowerment at Asia's Best CSR Practices Awards, whilst 'Women Go Beyond' - MAS' flagship Women Empowerment programme was honoured by being featured as an INSEAD Case Study for Strategic Corporate Responsibility in the Apparel Industry in 2006.

Mahesh completed his executive education in Strategic Leadership from Columbia University in New York (USA); and holds a Bachelor of Technology Degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Madras (India).

Mahesh is a charismatic leader and is engaged in nurturing teams, uplifting communities and committed towards creating a sustainable future for the next generation.

PRESIDENT'S AWARD RECIPIENT TRISTINE BERRY

As a marketing and merchandising manager for BASF, Honeywell, DuPont, and Invista, Tristine has touched the lives of most of us in the intimate apparel business and the wider world of textiles.

Tristine earned her BS in Textile Science at SUNY Buffalo, and an MS in Consumer Economics, Textiles, & Marketing Research from the University of Maryland. She's combined her background in textiles with an eye for trends and an ability to analyse and present her findings in a pragmatic way to her colleagues and customers. Her powers of observation and ability to make connections inform her personal as well as her business relationships. If you need an introduction to someone or something, Tristine is your go-to person.

Tristine has been a member of the Underfashion Club for over 30 years, and a member of the board for over 20 years, serving as vice-president, treasurer, and most recently co-chair of the membership committee and the Femmy journal. Her efforts to engage interesting speakers from outside the industry, and to create fun club events in novel locations, have benefitted and enlarged the club's membership.

A thinker, doer, teacher, lover of the arts, world traveller, consummate New Yorker, and all-around people person, Tristine is a generous mentor to young people in the industry and new members of the UFC.

Scholarships Awards Internships Grants

The Underfashion Club, Inc. has just concluded another successful year, delivering on its mission to promote "education today for a better industry tomorrow." We are proud of the scholarships and awards that are given each year to intimate apparel students at the Fashion Institute of Technology, LIM College, and Parsons School of Fashion; as well as graduating seniors from the High School of Art & Design and the High School of Fashion Industries in New York City, and the Design and Architecture Senior High (DASH) School in Miami.

The Underfashion Club is dedicated to the belief that the future depends on attracting and educating young people to the opportunities in our industry. As a means to this end, our scholarships provide substantial monetary support to students who pursue college-level, intimate apparel-related courses. Our internship program provides college students with the opportunity of working as interns for intimate apparel manufacturers, suppliers and retailers while continuing their education.

The Femmy Gala is the fundraising vehicle, which enables the Underfashion Club to support its extensive program of scholarships, awards, internships and grants. The Underfashion Club has also been fortunate in attracting a number of dedicated scholarship sponsors and internship providers. We are especially grateful to Best Pacific Textile Ltd., Clover Group International Ltd., Regina Miracle International (Holdings) Ltd. and Stretchline Holdings Ltd. for underwriting this year's Student Design Contest

If you or your company would be interested in sponsoring a summer intern, or providing additional scholarship opportunities, we would be most pleased to hear from you.

THE MARY KRUG MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Mary Krug was Vice President and Division Merchandise Manager for Neiman Marcus Stores, a division of Neiman Marcus Group.

Mary personified excellence, and she truly was the best of the best. When she died in 2013, Mary left a great legacy in the countless buyers, assistant buyers and vendors that she trained and educated over the years.

A group of industry executives – men and women who knew Mary well – committed to establish a scholarship in her memory for students of fashion merchandising. What began as a single scholarship is now a scholarship fund that will carry Mary's name and devotion to education years into the future.

Contributions to the fund continue to be collected, and you are welcome to add your financial support to this most worthy endeavor.

CHRISTINA BECHTEL | LIM COLLEGE

Christina Bechtel is a junior marketing student at LIM College in the Fashion Scholars Honors Program. She is also a part of the Student Leadership Council and the Student Mentor Program. Originally from Seattle, WA she is thrilled to be living and working in New York City and learning as much as possible while doing so.

Christina has always dreamt of living in NYC and working in the fashion business industry and is constantly preparing for her career in the field. With three internships in social media, marketing, & events under her belt, she is currently a marketing intern at a media company to learn more about the conversations of the industry and the moving parts behind the scenes. Christina hopes to work in the analytical side of the industry, utilizing social media and optimization tools to spark and facilitate the discussion of the industry's most important topics and combine the art and business of the industry.

THE JOHN BOWMAN MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

John L. Bowman, who died in March of 2016 after fighting a courageous battle with brain cancer, was a pioneer in the Intimate Apparel Industry.

He dedicated 27 years to the initial launch and success of Wacoal America and, later in his career, was a partner at Dana-co LLC working with the Natori brand.

He went on to establish John Bowman & Associates, where he provided his years of experience and expertise to numerous companies globally. He developed and built brands like he lived his life...never accepting that anything was impossible and always pushing forward despite the odds. His legacy is to be found in the success of so many industry professionals who benefitted from his mentoring.

The John Bowman Memorial Scholarship Fund, established in 2017 through the generous contributions of John's industry friends, will keep John's memory alive by providing much needed financial support to the most deserving of merchandising students.

JORDAN WHITEMAN | LIM COLLEGE

I am currently a junior at LIM College, studying fashion merchandising on the buying and planning track. I grew up in a small town in Massachusetts where I danced for 14 years. My love for dance played a major role in my love for fashion, and I was exposed to the glitz and glam at a young age due to dance recitals. Through my dance career, I traveled to New York a lot and I knew by middle school that this is where I wanted to end up.

Fast forward to today where each day I am more and more inspired by this city and the fashion industry. LIM has played a vital role in my success thus far and I owe a huge thank you to everyone who has been a part of my journey. I had the opportunity to study abroad in London for a week this past summer with a group of LIM students and we compared and contrasted retailing in New York and London. I attend the National Retail Federation's Big Show each January (through LIM's partnership with the NRF,) and am Co-President of the NRF Student Association.

My goal is to be the best planner or buyer that I can be. I have loved hearing guest speakers and professors talk about their experience, and each story I hear makes me more excited for the future. The retail industry is constantly changing and pursuing a career is a challenge that could not be accomplished without the assistance of the Underfashion Club and for that, I am extremely grateful.

2019 DASH SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT

DANIELLA CHAVIANO

Daniella Chaviano is a fashion design student at Design & Architecture Senior High who grew up in Central Florida with a father whom, as both a sculptor and tattoo artist, has nurtured her to cultivate her love for illustration and fashion construction.

Her family moved to Miami to support her father in opening a tattoo shop. Miami's hustle and bustle has made a great impact on her designs. Growing up around the two contrasting scenes (suburbia and tattoos) she is able to express herself in a manner that fits both norms, while also staying true to her signature style.

Daniella's lingerie designs were inspired by the Victorian era and the idea of pure elegance. She translates this into contemporary fabrics and silhouettes to keep up with the everyday modern woman. She makes each individual design versatile, while keeping the purity of the inspiration.

THE EILEEN WEST MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Eileen West, industry icon, famed designer and Emmy Lifetime Achievement Award recipient, died in September of 2017 after a brief illness.

Eileen possessed that rare combination of insight, intelligence and genuine humility. Her positive energy and thoughtful, kind, generous spirit infused her life and work.

Best known for her distinctive sleepwear collections, Eileen reintroduced all-natural gowns and robes to the American market in the 1970s. "In the heyday of polyester and nylon, she offered the natural alternatives of cotton, silk and rayon, a proposition buyers initially scoffed at," recalled Laney Thornton, her longtime business partner and co-founder of the Eileen West brand.

A memorial scholarship fund in her name was established in 2018, made possible through the generous contributions of Eileen's many industry friends, most notably KOMAR and the Laney Thornton Foundation. The Underfashion Club is honored to have been chosen to administer the fund that bears her name, and will keep her memory alive by providing much needed financial support to the most deserving of intimate apparel student for many years to come.

The first Eileen West Memorial Scholarship recipient will be selected early in 2019.
